

Full Day Market & Thai Community Lifestyle: Diethelm Standard or Budget

Tour details

Escape the buzz of Bangkok and discover Thai life outside of the capital in the surrounding countryside. The area is famous for Damnoen Saduak Floating Market, and the Maeklong Train Market and we'll visit both of these sites in a different way than other travel companies, offering a unique excursion.

In the early morning, board a local train headed to the famed Mae Klong railway market. When the train passes through the market, goods for sale are moved from the rails at lightning speed. After the train has sped by, everything is moved back within a few seconds. Next, visit a local enterprise that produces palm sugar before embarking on a longtail boat ride through the small side canals into the Mae Klong River, passing traditional houses on both banks. Visit the iconic Damnoen Saduak floating market (the floating market you see in most Bangkok postcards) and visit parts where there is still authentic charm.

After learning about khao lam (sticky rice cooked in a bamboo tube), you will visit Baan Bang Noi, where you can roll up your sleeves and help to prepare and cook different Thai dishes. Converse in the relaxing surroundings as you take a rest and enjoy the meal you have prepared. After satisfying your hunger, you will explore the surrounding orchards by foot, reached via a short bicycle ride. Return to Bangkok in the middle of the afternoon.

A perfect combination of must-see sites and activities outside Bangkok with hands-on experiences that allow guests to immerse themselves deeper into local life.

Customise the tour

- Between the coastal Samut Songkram and Bangkok runs a road flanked on either side by striking salt fields. Ask your guide for a photo stop, best between January and April when acres of the landscape are covered with piles of salt, and buy some sea salt from the source.
